Staying healthy at home

Many parents and carers will now need to work from home while also caring for their children to help control the spread of coronavirus. Below are some useful suggestions for staying emotionally, physically and mentally healthy during this time. We hope this information provides you with some helpful ideas that you can adopt.

How to look after your family's health and emotional wellbeing during this time:

Eat right

Eating healthy meals will strengthen your immune system and boost your mood. Prepare meals that include: a variety of vegetables (fresh, canned or frozen); starchy foods such as potatoes, rice or pasta; and protein such as beans, fish, eggs or meat. Stay hydrated by drinking 6 to 8 glasses of water daily. Between meals, eat healthy snacks such as yoghurt, fruit slices, chopped vegetables with hummus, plain crackers, plain popcorn and rice cakes. Limit sugary snacks which can cause tooth decay, poor concentration and weight gain.

Top tips:

Get your children involved in planning and preparing meals. For recipe ideas that are quick, easy and healthy, visit the Change4life website. Encourage your family to start their day well with a breakfast of porridge, Shredded Wheat or Weetabix with fruit slices, milk and yoghurt.

Keep physically active

Physical activity, such as going for a walk or bike ride outside, will boost your immune system, improve your mood and reduce anxiety levels. Children and young people need to be physically active for at least 60 minutes every day and this can be spread throughout the day. If you are required to self-isolate, keep physically active at home with your family by dancing to music, doing yoga and following along with online exercise workouts. Housework and gardening is also a good way to stay active.

Top tips:

YouTube Kids and has a range of fun dance routines for kids including Zumba workouts. Kids can also keep active with Disney's 10 minute shake-up games, and Disney Dance-Alongs. Adults can try 500 free workout videos from Fitness Blender and Les Mills.

Create a routine

Map out a schedule with your child that includes time for learning, homework, meals, exercise, relaxation and bedtime. Use apps such as Habitica to schedule your activities. Start your day with a healthy breakfast and some physical activity (see activity ideas), followed by lessons with regular active breaks. If you are working from home, try working some time periods in a separate space to minimise distractions. After lessons, schedule in creative activities such as arts and crafts, reading or playing musical instruments. Limit your child's screen time and make sure your child gets to bed at their normal bedtime.

Top tips:

Your school will provide you with resources and ideas so your child can continue their learning from home. For additional ideas, kids can play fun, educational games on the BBC Bitesize website and watch curriculum videos on BBC Teach. Timetable Rockstars are currently offering free full access and ask your school for more ideas. After lessons, keep kids busy with arts and crafts (see YouTube Kids for craft ideas), boardgames, audiobooks, podcasts, books or ebooks from your library, or with a language app such as Duolingo.

Look after your mental health

If the news is making you anxious, limit the amount you watch and read to once a day and only read good quality information and advice on the virus at GOV.UK, WHO and the NHS coronavirus website. Stay socially connected with friends and family regularly on either social media, email, phone or video chat. This will be especially important if you need to self-isolate. Exercising and eating well will help manage stress and anxiety, and you can also try breathing exercises, yoga, meditation or mindfulness to help you stay calm and to relieve stress.

Top tips:

The NHS Livewell webpage has ideas for looking after your mental wellbeing, breathing exercises you can try to lower anxiety, and information on mindfulness. Use the Pacifica app to reduce your stress and anxiety, and for guided meditation, download the Headspace app. For more information on looking after your mental health, visit the Mind website, and if you are feeling emotional distress or are struggling to cope, call your local Samaritans for emotional support (children can call Childline).

Talk to your child

Your children will be hearing about coronavirus and may be feeling anxious. It is important that you make them feel safe, but be truthful and speak calmly and reassuringly. Give them space to share their fears and help them feel in control by giving them specific things they can do such as getting lots of sleep and washing their hands. Talk about what is happening to keep people healthy and regularly check in with your child and answer their questions.
